

REMIform Room Dividers

The REMIform Room Divider, distributed for REMIS throughout Australia and New Zealand by AL-KO Australia, is the ultimate divider available for caravans, motor homes and boats. At last, there is a room divider on the market that is not only a visual separation between rooms, but also looks attractive.

When open, the unit lays flat against the frame – allowing users much more space to pass through. This offers an alternative to curtains and solid sliding doors, which even when fully ajar, can provide only a small opening.

The homely character of the REMIform Room Divider is perfect for when you just need to get away and escape for a while. Acting much like a removable wall, it gives users the flexibility to change the layout of your trailer to suit different activities.

There are two sizes available, each with a height of 1900mm. The first size can be adjusted to suit widths of between 50-800mm and the second size can fit widths up to 1500mm. Its light weight makes it very easy to fit to your existing structure ensuring no unnecessary weight is added to your van. In addition, the divider can be custom-shaped to fit existing structures and are available in a choice of two colours: light grey and light beige.

So if privacy is a priority and style is important to you, then the smooth-running REMIform Room Divider might just be the product you are looking for.
