AL-KO RELEASES A NEW RANGE OF LANDING LEGS

AL-KO is well recognised as being Australia's leading supplier of quality trailer components. To complement its product range they now have available a range of Landing Legs that are built to the same quality that you have come to expect from the AL-KO brand.

Ideal for stabilising plant trailers, agricultural equipment, 5-wheeler caravans and camper trailers the AL-KO Landing Leg is a necessary inclusion to the toolkit of the commercial contractor, farmer and camping enthusiast alike.

Whether you need to stabilise your bobcat trailer or your fully loaded water tank the AL-KO range can cater for static loads ranging from 1,300 to 4,500 kg.

Like all AL-KO products they are designed and built to last with the rugged Australian conditions in mind. Every product is zinc plated and the bottom plate is drilled to allow drainage to prevent corrosion. A 12 month warranty is in place to give you that extra peace of mind when purchasing an AL-KO Landing Leg.

If you own an alternatively branded Landing Leg and you are looking to swap over to an AL-KO model there is no need to invest in a mounting kit. All AL-KO Landing Legs are easily fitted to alternative brand's mounting brackets.

All side wind operation for speedy installation is standard, while drop down legs are available on some models for added functionality.

Next time you are in the market for Landing Legs, consider the AL-KO product reputation and ask for a price on the AL-KO model.
