AL-KO WATER PUMP PRODUCT ANNOUNCEMENT

DRINKING WATER AND FOOD GRADING FOR AL-KO WATERPUMPS.

Question –

The question has been raised as to whether the AL-KO Water Pumps are suitable for drinking water or for dispersion of food / beverage material. Please refer to product manual for more information.

Answer -

The AL-KO HW series and HWA1001 Waterpumps, along with the Hydrocontrol switch ARE suitable for drinking water use, but only if the correct filtration system, both pre-pump and post pump is installed. These pumps DO NOT have an internal filtration system and therefore will not be suitable for drinking water purposes without a pre-filter and post-filter fitter at installation.

The installation will also require that the tank made of a drinking water graded material.

The Jet Series Water Pumps and Submersible Water Pumps ARE NOT suitable for drinking water purposes.

No AL-KO Waterpump model has a food or beverage grade rating and therefore should not be used for any transfer of food or beverage substances. This type of use will not be covered under warranty.
